President & CEO's Monthly Report

President & CEO Corbett noted they had more encouraging news to share about NJ TRANSIT's rail service. Train cancellations were down 35 percent in the first 10 months of this year compared to last year. Cancellations this October were down 41 percent from October 2018. And on-time performance increased nearly three percentage points from October 2018 to October 2019, to more than 91 percent.

On the bus side, more than 600 new bus operators have graduated since January 2018. Before hiring these new operators, NJ TRANSIT was averaging about 40 missed bus trips per day. As of today, that number is less than 10 on many days, out of more than 10,000 total bus trips provided each day.

President & CEO Corbett said from April 2019 to September 2019, these new hires have allowed NJ TRANSIT to add 80 new bus trips to the weekday schedule, 86 new bus trips to the Saturday schedule, and 166 new bus trips to the Sunday schedule. He said that is an average of more than 90 new, additional trips per day. Fewer delays and more service means less crowding and a vastly better experience for NJ TRANSIT's bus customers.

President & CEO Corbett said there is still much work to be done before all their customers feel the improved experience, but they feel they are trending in the right direction. He said they are not going to let up until they improve reliability and eliminate preventable disruptions.

He said the numbers are subject to some fluctuation over any given period, much like the stock market. More specifically, they expect fluctuations to diminish as they get closer to a full roster of engineers. Of critical importance, the numbers continue to trend in the right direction.

President & CEO Corbett said to keep those numbers moving in the right direction, three classes of locomotive engineers will graduate over the next three months; one this month, one in December, and one in January. Beginning in 2020 and beyond, they will start to see real net gains in their ranks of locomotive engineers.

President & CEO Corbett discussed the technology side relating to the mobile app. They remain focused on leveraging technology to improve the customer experience. To that end, NJ TRANSIT has launched a completely redesigned and upgraded version of their mobile app.

The updated app, released last month for Apple and coming later this month for Android, has all the features customers have come to rely on, with a cleaner, simpler, more modern interface and design. Nearly 80,000 customers have installed the update so far, which has: a refreshed home screen; a new look for DepartureVision and MyBus; and includes performance enhancements that allow it to take full advantage of the device it's running on, including fingerprint and face ID.

The update was designed and developed entirely in-house, which is much more cost-effective and a quicker approach than outsourcing. After more than 1,500 reviews, the app's rating is holding steady at an impressive 4.5 out of 5 stars, with a tremendous amount of positive feedback about the latest update.

President & CEO Corbett noted several of them were at the North Brunswick Train Station recently. He was pleased to report they were continuing to advance capital projects. On October 30, 2019, Governor Murphy announced an Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between NJ TRANSIT and the Middlesex County Improvement Authority (MCIA), which was on this evening's agenda, to build a new train station in North Brunswick, along the Northeast Corridor. The MCIA will serve as the project manager for the station's design and construction. Projects like this are critically important for the system and region.

Unlike national commuter rail trends, NJ TRANSIT saw an increase in rail ridership of about three percent year-over-year, and this station will be on the Northeast Corridor line, their busiest in the system. The project also demonstrates NJ TRANSIT is open to look at different approaches on capital projects.

Overall, NJ TRANSIT is investing more than one billion dollars in Middlesex County infrastructure alone. In addition to the new North Brunswick station, this includes the new Raritan River Bridge, the County Yard and Delco Lead Storage and Inspection Facility, and a major renovation at our Perth Amboy station. These investments will do far more than improve service for customers. They will create jobs and spur economic growth throughout New Jersey.

President & CEO Corbett said the last few weeks have been exciting with the NJ TRANSIT Innovation Challenge. They are also looking at innovative ways to engage external partners in the public and private sectors to partner on new projects. On November 7, 2019, NJ TRANSIT hosted an industry day for their innovation challenge.

Through this challenge, NJ TRANSIT is exploring the possibility of a public-private partnership to significantly increase capacity between Secaucus, MetLife Stadium, and American Dream. They hosted breakout sessions and networking opportunities, where industry leaders from more than 50 private-sector firms and academic institutions engaged with senior NJ TRANSIT staff and representatives from other major organizations. In the coming weeks, NJ TRANSIT will release a Request for Expression of Interest to receive and evaluate proposals from the best and the brightest in the industry. President & CEO Corbett thanked Chair Gutierrez-Scaccetti for leading this critically important and visionary initiative.

President & CEO Corbett was pleased to report that transit to and from the American Dream Complex, for the limited opening on October 25, 2019, has been running smoothly. As new amenities open in the coming months, they will closely monitor service to ensure it remains commensurate with demand.

NJ TRANSIT also remains focused on the safety and security of the system for customers, employees and the communities they serve. On November 2, 2019, the New Jersey Transit Police Department joined local, county, state, and federal partners to conduct an emergency response drill at our Glen Rock Main Line train station. Attorney General Gurbir Grewal attended to observe this large-scale drill, which was about four hours long and included more than 150 volunteers.

In honor of Veterans' Day, President & CEO Corbett took a moment to pay tribute to all the members of armed forces who served in the past, are serving now, and those who made the ultimate sacrifice defending their freedoms. He asked everyone in attendance who bravely and honorably serve or served to please stand. To all those standing, President & CEO Corbett said they owe you a tremendous debt of gratitude and thanked them for their service.

As they reflect on the service of these brave men and women, President & CEO Corbett reconfirmed their commitment to do everything they can, in words and in deeds, to recognize the contributions and the sacrifices of America's veterans, including the large number employed by NJ TRANSIT.

Public Comments

There were 16 speakers. Board Secretary Zuczek announced in order to give everyone an opportunity to be heard, public comments would be limited to five minutes, and if there were several people speaking on the same topic, two speakers would have five minutes, and all others would have two minutes.

Christian Hartman thanked all the veterans in the room for their service. He is Vice President of the New Jersey Alliance for Action. Members for the Alliance for Action include thousands of New Jersey's top corporate, labor, professional, academic and government representatives. The Alliance's non-partisan mission is to improve New Jersey's economy through the promotion of responsible infrastructure development. They have been studying the NJ TRANSITGRID Project for quite some time.

The New Jersey Alliance for Action would like to go on record that they strongly support the approval of the NJ TRANSITGRID project. This program will provide highly reliable electric power to support service in one of the most important segments of NJ TRANSIT's service territory. It will also provide redundancy in the system, allowing residents to travel to work, school, and other essential locations that would otherwise be inaccessible during a commercial power outage. It would minimize disruptions to the regional workforce, give another mode of transportation during an emergency, and provide a cleaner and more efficient source of power.

NJ TRANSIT's rail service is important. The NJ TRANSIT rail service transports people in and out of New York City and across various residential and commercial areas in the state, and it is a crucial piece of their overall economy. It is also unfortunately vulnerable to commercial grid power outages, which are occurring more frequently due to both the existing power distribution system and the increasing intensity and frequency of severe weather events.

They have all been affected by the recent powerful storms in the region, namely Superstorm Sandy. For NJ TRANSIT, this storm caused wide spread and prolonged power outages that severely affected rail service for nearly a week and the impact on the economy is impossible to measure.

Important to the local economy, the project would provide over 200 construction jobs and around 30 permanent jobs. The project would also transform a brownfield that has been sitting vacant for 40 years and NJ TRANSIT will be restoring an area of the Meadowland Wetlands.

A multi-acre solar facility will be built along with the plant and the main facility would utilize a variety of technologies to generate and store power. The Alliance says this is a good thing for the State and creating a Microgrid like this is something unique in transportation in the United States. Mr. Hartman lives in this area and supports this project. They stand to assist in any way that they can.

Raphael Wakefield is a resident of Jersey City. He was inspired to come there after reading an article written in The Star-Ledger by former lawmaker John Wisniewski asking for the return of full funding for NJ TRANSIT to the pre-Christie era. He takes issue with this because that era was a very good one and it was a professional commuter operation that got people where they needed to go and back. He hopes the railroad will return to that.

Mr. Wakefield believes there are things that can be done to fix the bus system and the Hudson-Bergen Light Rail (HBLR) at low cost now that demand NJ TRANSIT's attention. He agrees with the President & CEO that the mobile app is good, and he uses it, but a lot of people do not know that because they will never find out about the mobile app if they are not regular transit riders.

Mr. Wakefield believes it is not so much about technology as it is about the basics. He believes the fare structure is very confusing, and it is incompatible with PATH and New York City Transit, and these are big issues that are widely misunderstood by the NJ TRANSIT organization. For example, he said if someone gets off at Newark Airport and want to take a bus, how would they do this if they were a visitor and did not know about the NJ TRANSIT mobile app.

Mr. Wakefield thinks NJ TRANSIT was a great commuter system in the past and can still be that, but the urban buses leave a lot to be desired. He said there are too many stops and the 62 bus in Newark stops at every block.

Mr. Wakefield said in Jersey City they are cutting a new road on Jersey Avenue which is a short-cut between downtown and Liberty State Park. They already have light rail at Liberty State Park. He questioned why every time he rides it, the train hits stop lights on grade crossings. Mr. Wakefield said the City Councilman told him that it is in NJ TRANSIT's power to adjust these stop lights and not the responsibility of the City.

Mr. Wakefield recommended to increase ridership by looking at new ways to get information out about transit. He believes if visitors are looking for information, they are going to have a hard time trying to read maps that are faded out due to sun exposure. Mr. Wakefield believes the maps are a great concept, but they need to be replaced. As a person who travels a lot, he thinks it is the little things sometimes that make all the difference.

Cary Heller is a tenant of NJ TRANSIT. He has retained a master lease for the last 25 years for the stores in the South Orange Train Station. He said he successfully organized the lease with NJ TRANSIT's Real Estate Department 25 years ago and has done very well.

Mr. Heller said he has a lease that is up for renewal in five years and he believes he is paying too little money to NJ TRANSIT. He said he has expressed this to the Real Estate Department over the last number of years, particularly in 2016, give or take a year, when the $60 million budget deficit was announced. Mr. Heller said he tried to explain this to the Real Estate Department over the years. He said they have had mixed results on how they run the property and how they run the stores.

Mr. Heller said he suggested the Real Estate Department tear up the lease, extend it, buy him out, or he could pay more money upfront. In subsequent years, he offered to give hundreds of thousands or more for a lease extension.

Mr. Heller said NJ TRANSIT is not monetarizing many of their assets, more specifically his own. He asked the Board to speak to the Real Estate Department. Mr. Heller said something should be done if they do not wish to extend his lease. He thinks NJ TRANSIT should end his lease to present value to whatever payments were made, or what money they are not going to make over the next five years and have them move on. Mr. Heller said he is paying NJ TRANSIT $100,000 a year and if his lease were to end today someone else might be paying $250,000 a year.

Mr. Heller said NJ TRANSIT is much busier at their train stations now, their South Orange Station may be one of the busiest train stations, and they are the home of West Orange, Livingston, and other shuttles. He said NJ TRANSIT also owns the parking lot behind the station and preparations are being made to make use of this space. Mr. Heller said he asked NJ TRANSIT 20 years ago not to buy this old piece of land because it was an old lumber and coal yard. He believes there are other real estate opportunities on the other side of the train station.

Mr. Heller said he has followed NJ TRANSIT and has a long history with them. He said his uncle, Gene Heller, built this NJ TRANSIT building. Mr. Heller said he is looking to help, contribute, participate, and monetize.

Stephen Thorpe said on occasion, he rides the River LINE. As some may be aware, he is a member of the Senior Citizen and Disabled Resident Transportation Advisory Committee (SCDRTAC) and they have their meetings in Camden so they take the light rail from Trenton.

Mr. Thorpe believes the light rail has gotten bad and feels threatened for his safety. He said he hoped to see Chief Trucillo to mention this to him. Mr. Thorpe said the court reporter who takes the minutes at their meetings stopped commuting on the light rail because she feared for her life. She said she has seen people selling drugs over seats. Mr. Thorpe said NJ TRANSIT really should have undercover police on these trains because if people start getting arrested the word will hit the street and it will stop. He said he does not like to take his wife on the light rail. Mr. Thorpe said he realizes it is an urban area and they are going to hear street language, but it is bad. He said when people speak to each other using profanity it is bad, but it gets worse when they start playing music with profanity and calling it music. Mr. Thorpe said when he rides the Hudson-Bergen Light Rail (HBLR), it is not as bad as the River LINE.

Mr. Thorpe noted the rail has quiet cars, however, not all train crew enforce it and then passengers must step in. He said Bob Lavell used to give him quiet car cards and he would pass them out to passengers. Mr. Thorpe said some would adhere to them and some would not.

Mr. Thorpe is concerned about some of these trains after sporting events. He would like to speak to Chief Trucillo about an undercover police presence on the River LINE so NJ TRANSIT can see what is going on.

Last, Mr. Thorpe asked that something be done for Mr. Graddy. He noted Mr. Graddy has been coming there time after time and no one wants to keep doing this. Mr. Thorpe asked the Board to listen to Mr. Graddy and try to understand what he has been through.

Allen Kratz was delighted to be back at NJ TRANSIT. He previously worked there for 15 years and said it was great to be back with people who he enjoyed working with in Real Estate and Economic Development. Since leaving NJ TRANSIT, he moved on to two different careers, one saving historic buildings and the second helping communities find funding to build infrastructure to protect them from flood risks and sea level rise in extreme weather events.

Mr. Kratz was there to discuss an opportunity that NJ TRANSIT has in Hoboken for raising revenue and advancing both of those state-wide policies. He had four photographs that he provided electronically to Beverley Cunningham at the sign-in desk.

One of his accountabilities in Real Estate and Economic Development was to sell excess property. Benson Street Station was one of those properties and it had been made obsolete in 2002 with the opening of the Montclair connection. There was a fire there in the 1990's and for many years this wood structure was protected by tarps to keep out the rain. NJ TRANSIT had to sell this to a ready, willing, and able buyer that would also commit to restoring the building to the historic standing that the State had established. The buyer did and so did NJ TRANSIT.

In 2013, Benson Street Station was converted into a residence and was back on the tax rolls in Glen Ridge. The other issue Real Estate had was figuring out what to do, in an economically prudent way, with the immigrant building in Hoboken. This was a building that had been vacant and underutilized for many years. In 2012, Superstorm Sandy gave it a power wash and a new rationale for use. NJ TRANSIT has now taken to preserving the second floor of this building to raise the electric substation above flood level.

Mr. Kratz said these are both good examples of how NJ TRANSIT has worked and how it continues to work to respect and put to good economic use the historic structures it has. He applauded the investment NJ TRANSIT has made in restoring, upgrading, and putting to good use the historic architecture and the historic engineering of the properties NJ TRANSIT inherited over 40 years ago. In his view, the historic stations that have been restored go a long way for creating a positive customer experience for those who ride transit every day.

Mr. Kratz said each day 30,000 people pass by the records building in Hoboken. He said the whimsical sand castle like building was designed by the architect who designed many of NJ TRANSIT historic stations. Mr. Kratz believes this is an opportunity for those in the private sector, NJ TRANSIT, and citizens to find a creative use for this building. He suggested working together and find a way to bring their expertise and enthusiasm together to figure out an alternative to the records building, other than demolition of the building. Mr. Kratz suggested they all be positive about historic preservation and climate adaptation and give their past a future and their future a future.

Errol Kerr thanked the men and women who serve their country. He thanked the Board for the opportunity extended to address their issues. Mr. Kerr said for the last two years, their issue has been the injustice that has been dealt to Mr. Russell Graddy. He explained they are very consistent in their presence at these meetings, in good or bad weather, because this speaks to their commitment to justice for Mr. Graddy. Mr. Kerr said it should be evident coming there as a community that they carry a very strong feeling of love and appreciation for Mr. Graddy and they are not only there for Mr. Graddy out of respect and love, but out of their commitment to justice.

Mr. Kerr said they believe justice has not been done and are driven there month after month to see through this process of justice for Mr. Graddy. He believes the Board has the right to dispense justice, but if they keep deferring this issue, they may not be in the position to dispense this justice.

Mr. Kerr asked how they would feel if they or their family members were in this position that Mr. Graddy is in. He said Mr. Graddy was thriving in his business and making money and securing a future for his family and it was not by mistake that NJ TRANSIT came in and interrupted his progress, ended his business, and placed him out on the street. Mr. Kerr said he was appealing to NJ TRANSIT to reconsider the offer that was placed on the table and take into consideration the suffering that he has gone through.

Winifred Harrison spoke on behalf of Mr. Graddy and has been coming there out of respect for him as a great man of intelligence and integrity. She said they have seen what he has been going through with NJ TRANSIT and they will continue to come because they believe in God that this will be resolved. Ms. Harrison said they understand that an offer was made to Mr. Graddy by NJ TRANSIT, but they do not know what it is.

Ms. Harrison said they are not the first Board to have heard this issue, but they are praying they will be the last Board. She said it is so hurtful for Mr. Graddy to keep coming down there with people who are taking time away from other things they could be doing because of the injustice that he has been given. Ms. Harrison understands that this is a process but does not think something should be going on for so many years. She thinks this is unfair to Mr. Graddy because he is not asking for anything astronomical but just what he deserves. Once Mr. Graddy is satisfied, they can go to his restaurant, celebrate, eat, and relax. Ms. Harrison asked the Board to come to a resolution.

Casey Melvin spoke in support of Mr. Russell Graddy. Mr. Melvin is a young businessman and Mr. Graddy is somewhat of an icon and mentor. He has been in business only a fraction of time that Mr. Graddy has, and owns a small barbershop. When Mr. Melvin heard the story of Mr. Graddy's problems with NJ TRANSIT from one of his clients, he was shocked because he has always held NJ TRANSIT in the highest regard. Mr. Melvin said individuals he has serviced in his business, that have worked with NJ TRANSIT driving buses and worked in the garages, had if not all good but fair things to say about NJ TRANSIT. These stories now are challenging to him after he heard what has happened to Mr. Graddy. Mr. Melvin believes there is a great level of intelligence on this Board and that they can see the disenfranchisement and unfairness that has been bestowed upon Mr. Graddy and it has been confirmed by the small settlement he was offered.

Mr. Melvin said it would do all present and future generations a favor to know that NJ TRANSIT will maintain their positive reputation amongst the people in the City of Paterson. He recently read an article that said NJ TRANSIT is working on a multi-million-dollar investment for light rail to run through their city in Paterson and will make a stop which is not far from where Mr. Graddy's restaurant is. Mr. Melvin thinks this is a disservice to

Mr. Graddy and puts a sour taste in their mouth, heart, and mind. He said anything the Board can do to resolve Mr. Graddy's issue would be greatly appreciated.

Princess Reeves took time to honor the Veterans that were there. She is a mother of a military daughter who is a Staff Sergeant in the Army and is still serving the United States. Ms. Reeves commended all those present for their service. Ms. Reeves said Mr. Graddy has been coming there repeatedly for more than two years and so have they. They have been contributing their time and voices in support of an icon from the City of Paterson.

Ms. Reeves said Mr. Graddy has done everything that was humanly asked of him and they should be closer to a resolution for him. It is of big concern to them that this matter be resolved. Ms. Reeves said they are humble people, but feel Mr. Graddy is very deserving of being rewarded for all that he has asked for. She said the Board had time to go over the litigations and NJ TRANSIT should be at a time of resolution. Ms. Reeves wished NJ TRANSIT a Happy Thanksgiving in advance, and asked that they utilize the time to grant justice to Mr. Graddy.

Vivian Matthews represented the National Council of Negro Women of Passaic County in support of Mr. Graddy. She said they have been coming for quite a while and think it is time to resolve this situation. Ms. Matthews said Mr. Graddy has done everything he was asked to do and now it is time for NJ TRANSIT to do what they are asking. Their organization advocates for men and woman of African descent and are standing behind Mr. Graddy because whenever they ask him to do something for their organization, he is available. They were there now to help him get what he thinks he deserves.

Kay Banks said she is President of Passaic County African American Women, and a few of her constituents were there with her. They were there in support of Mr. Graddy and salute him for being a man of valor and integrity. Ms. Banks said for many years Mr. Graddy has been committed to the community, personally and as an organization. She said Mr. Graddy is persistent, steadfast, committed, and has taken a stand for justice for what is just and due to him. They have come to the board meeting many times in support of him and while longevity has its place, they are concerned about justice. Ms. Banks believes Mr. Graddy is rightfully there for what is due to him. She asked them to think about a 90-year old woman who ended up in a nursing home having nothing left to hold onto but a blanket after her husband died and asked them not to let this be Mr. Graddy.

Jamie Bland is a Chapter Leader for the National Action Network of Passaic and Bergen County under Reverend Al Sharpton. She spoke on behalf of Russell Graddy who is an A-List businessman in Passaic County, a father, and a man who has reached out to the community numerous times. Ms. Bland said Mr. Graddy has given out grants and support while uplifting the community at the same time. She said Mr. Graddy is one of the pillars in their community, a historian and a leader, and someone they all consider a human being.

Ms. Bland said this human being has been embarrassed, humiliated, and has paid rent for two-years straight for a building he was not occupying. They understand that NJ TRANSIT has made a decision. She asked that the decision make Mr. Graddy whole again. She said

Mr. Graddy has had to keep his pride and dignity as a man and deserves justice. She said they are not going to stop until he is made whole again. Ms. Bland began a chant, no justice, no peace.

Zatiti Moody is Vice President of the Brother's Organization in Paterson and was there in full support of Mr. Russell Graddy. Mr. Moody said Mr. Graddy has been a mentor to many of the residents in Paterson and to the community. As a young man, he was often told of the individuals who brought the late great Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to Paterson. If he stands correct, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s last official speech was in Paterson, New Jersey and the person responsible for making this possible was Mr. Russell Graddy.

As a young man, Mr. Moody always wanted to meet Mr. Graddy. He met Mr. Graddy when working on a Board at the NAACP. Their organization then came out to support Mr. Graddy and Mr. Moody learned Mr. Graddy was a man of not only humility, but purpose. Mr. Moody said Mr. Graddy takes on problems in the community that most folks would say is not their problem. He has seen many people come into Mr. Graddy's restaurant, but he would feed this one guy every day and not charge him a dime.

Mr. Moody said what Mr. Graddy is asking for, he has spent in bus and train passes helping young people get to work, and he believes Mr. Graddy is not trying to get rich off this process. He said Mr. Graddy is an older man who is aging gracefully, and if he received what he is asking he would probably use it to employ more people in Paterson. Mr. Moody implored the Members of the Board to take another look at this and grant justice to Mr. Graddy. Mr. Moody reiterated Ms. Bland stating, no justice, no peace. They come in peace because the absence of peace is chaos and they just want justice.

Russell Graddy said he has been coming before the NJ TRANSIT Board for over two years and believes what they have done is turn this whole process into a joke. He does not think they have looked at this seriously. Mr. Graddy said when the speakers come up, they speak from their hearts.

Mr. Graddy is starting to wonder if the Board really knows what this case is all about and what really happened. Mr. Graddy said the Board needs to go back and understand what happened, and if they do not know, they need to have a meeting with him and ask questions. He said this is a powerful Board and the attorneys that represent them are powerful.

Mr. Graddy said NJ TRANSIT never wanted an African American man to operate in the bus station. He said twice before 2004, they were in court and made settlements. Mr. Graddy said they went to court because NJ TRANSIT did not want an African American to operate a business on NJ TRANSIT's property.

Mr. Graddy heard others thanking the veterans that have served this country. He said he served this country honorably in Korea and this is a great country, but he was sorry to say there are some people in this country that are not right.

Mr. Graddy said to look at the records. He said he spent $1.5 million into the NJ TRANSIT property based on the promise that he could serve there for 20 years. Mr. Graddy said some time ago, Chair Gutierrez-Scaccetti said they were not there all those years ago. He said the records will show he paid his rent every month and his in-debt service to Economic Development for the State of New Jersey, and ran a fantastic restaurant thinking he had 20 years to recoup his investment.

Mr. Graddy said NJ TRANSIT then decided to move the bus station again and said they would bear the expenses of moving him next door but needed him to pack up his things and they will replace it, but it will take 90-120 days to do that. He said the minute he packed his things, NJ TRANSIT moved it out and put it into storage, and they were not going to put him next door at all. Mr. Graddy said he was then forced to go into court, spent a lot of money on professionals, and then NJ TRANSIT sent him a bill every month to pay his rent because he still had a lease, but in 2004 his keys were taken.

Board Secretary Zuczek intervened from the dais and asked with all due respect for Mr. Graddy to please sum up his comments because they have two additional speakers. Mr. Graddy responded he has been coming down there for almost three years. Board Secretary Zuczek explained that she understood. Mr. Graddy responded, he knows she understands, but she does not know what NJ TRANSIT is doing to him, and said he is going to have someone else's time and will not sit down until he is finished because what has happened to him is unfair and continued talking.

Chair Gutierrez-Scaccetti then said to Mr. Graddy that they understand that he is there every month and to believe her when she tells him, as they have before, that they understand his situation. She understands it is hard for him to hear that this Board, more appropriately this Agency, has no legal obligation to have these discussions with him, but are trying to be reasonable. He has asked for more than she can even justify in her own mind. They have gone back and looked at Mr. Graddy's records and the courts records, and it does not matter what he thinks of the court or what she thinks of the court. It is the records of the court, vetted in the State of New Jersey, that they abide by if they want to continue these discussions when he is ready to come to the table and understand where they are.

Chair Gutierrez-Scaccetti noted this was 15-years old. They cannot, even though he thinks they can, just hand out money and have no intention of doing so. They will have a reasonable discussion with him about a reasonable settlement to his concerns. There is no open claim, and it is very important that he understands that there is no open legal matter. It concluded a very long time ago. She knows he does not want to hear this, and she does not like having to be the one to say it to him.

Chair Gutierrez-Scaccetti said she is responsible as the Chair of this Board. They have a meeting to be held and there is business to be done and they give all the speakers the same amount of time. His group always gets two speakers with five minutes however he wants it and two minutes for everyone else. She knows he does not want to sit down until he is done but unfortunately, that is what must happen. They are happy to entertain a reasonable discussion with him, but that is on him when he is ready to do so with them.

Mr. Graddy thanked Chair Gutierrez-Scaccetti for her comments and said they are making a joke out of what NJ TRANSIT is offering him. He understands them wanting to go back to the courts. Mr. Graddy said NJ TRANSIT has used the courts to do its dirty work; and if anyone in this room can say the courts are always fair to African Americans, he can sell them the Brooklyn Bridge. He said he wants to get into some serious negotiations, but it has not been negotiations with NJ TRANSIT, and they have dictated what he should take. He said he is not going to stand for it, even if he doesn't get a dime. Mr. Graddy said this is bigger than them and they are human beings who must be respected as such. He said they have their children who have to look up to them and they are not going to just sit around and let NJ TRANSIT just take from them and railroad them out of their businesses. Mr. Graddy said maybe it is time for a bus boycott. He said if they don't come to the table and be fair with him, that is what they are going to get.

Sydney Madison suspects they all know about the two degrees target for dealing with climate change. The number two is a political number that has been set forth by the International Panel on Climate Change (IPCC). The scientific answer is to keep this number as low as possible and the reason for that is because if the temperature goes up by one-tenth of a degree, the damage goes up by greater than that. They have already seen two examples of this from storms in Bermuda in 2019 when a storm set over the island for 24 hours and destroyed it, and in Houston in 2018 when there got 51 inches of rain in 24 hours. Recently they had a report that these types of storms will get worse.

Mr. Madison said there is another target that has been set which is zero emissions by 2050, and while this is a good target it does not consider cumulative emissions, which are more important than the target. He said they cannot make the target without dealing with cumulative emissions and will submit a copy his diagram outlining this to the Board. Mr. Madison said in the diagram, the red line does not bring down emissions quick enough, but the green line does bring them down and respects the need to keep cumulative emissions down.

Mr. Madison said the point is, as a nation they have contributed and are still contributing more to greenhouse gas emissions than other countries per capita. He said they have the means to deal with this and have a large amount of stranded asset on their future which will make the great recession of 2008 look like kids play and this reasoning means business as usual and it is not their job, but this mindset needs to be changed. Mr. Madison said they must start dealing very seriously about changing the rules of fossil fuel in their economy, and at a minimum this means they should not be adding any fossil fuel plants or pipelines. He asked NJ TRANSIT to do all this by policy, decree, or by speaking to the Governor.

David Peter Alan, Chair of the Lackawanna Coalition, spoke on behalf of the united advocates for riders at the Coalition and the New Jersey Association of Railroad Passengers (NJ-ARP). He noted the Raritan Valley Line has gotten most of its former "one-seat-ride" service to New York Penn Station back. They are happy for the riders there, but there has been no improvement on the Morris & Essex, Gladstone, Montclair-Boonton, Main-Bergen or Pascack Valley Lines. Mr. Alan said the riders on all these lines have suffered more, with trains removed from the schedule and cancellations that have degraded their rail service to an unprecedented level of unreliability. He complained that they have not even been told when they will get any of their trains back, or even received a legally-enforceable assurance that they ever will. Mr. Alan said this situation remains totally unacceptable to their constituents along these lines.

Mr. Alan said while they suffer, NJ TRANSIT continues to hand out millions of dollars for a parking deck, a North Brunswick station that would only benefit a single developer, and other projects that do not improve mobility on the lines that NJ TRANSIT operates today. He said they have seen nothing but cuts and deterioration for more than four years. Mr. Alan said there is even an item that would give WSP, one of the nation's highest-priced firms, more than $8 million for "Enterprise Asset Management," a concept that the materials do not even explain. He said the advocates for their riders hereby call for NJ TRANSIT to provide a total moratorium on all capital spending that does not directly provide mobility for riders, until every train removed from the schedule on every line since September 2015 is restored, and every line runs as reliably as it did five years ago.

Mr. Alan said they commend NJ TRANSIT for avoiding the temptation to run rail service to the so-called "American Dream" complex, which some of their members call the "American Nightmare."

Mr. Alan complained that they persist in calling a manager named Stewart Mader a "customer advocate." They continue to voice the strongest possible objections to the use of that title. Mr. Alan believes it is an out-and-out lie and falsehood specifically promulgated to cause public confusion and bring into question the credibility and authenticity of the efforts by the genuine customer advocates, including those by the Lackawanna Coalition and NJ-ARP, who have been serving the interests of riders for more than 40 years. Mr. Alan said they would not object to a truthful title for Mr. Mader but must insist that NJ TRANSIT immediately cease and desist from claiming that he, as a management employee, is an advocate for riders. Mr. Alan believes they are the advocates for riders, not Mr. Mader. He said management's credibility is terrible currently and it does not improve when they keep lying to the public about who advocates for riders.

Mr. Alan said they heard a lot about Senator Loretta Weinberg's committee that will purportedly investigate NJ TRANSIT's recent poor performance. He said he told that committee one of the reasons why it is so poor is not a single person on the NJ TRANSIT Board has ever depended on transit for all mobility, as far as they know. Mr. Alan said he campaigned relentlessly to persuade the legislature to require that one person on the Board depend on transit, because no motorist can ever know the suffering that the poorly-performing transit can cause for those who depend on it. He said he got nowhere.

Mr. Alan said he had a message for Governor Murphy, and he knows some in the room can deliver it for him. He asked them to tell the Governor that they know where to find him and can put him in touch so his fellow genuine customer advocates can tell him what things are really like at NJ TRANSIT. Mr. Alan said they just want the Governor to hear the riders' side of the story, which he cannot get elsewhere.

Advisory Committee Report

Suzanne Mack provided the Advisory Committee Report. She was pleased to be there to present the Advisory Committee Report since she has been away. Ms. Mack was very pleased that her Vice Chair, Ron Monaco was able to give the Advisory Committee Report last month at the October meeting, as well as Tim O'Reilly who represented them at the September meeting. Ron Monaco is an avid rider on the Raritan Valley line and brings a real rail perspective to the organization and their committee.

Ms. Mack said the committee is small, but it does have the interest of the different modes among them. She is a light rail advocate as they know, and Kathy Edmond represents Ocean County and does a lot on the paratransit side. Ms. Mack is very happy they are inclusive and would like the Committee to come and meet the Board because she believes seeing them, being a part of this process, and seeing how meetings are run is very valuable. It is also important for the Committee to see how things develop with the Executive Committee and the new Board which is also of value to all of them. Ms. Mack told Chair Gutierrez-Scaccetti she was very happy to be there again and join them in their effort.

Ms. Mack mentioned they just had Veteran's Day and thanked all of those serving all over the world past and future, noting they do a tremendous job. They also have many employees probably on the dais and certainly within the ranks that have given service to their country. She noted on the agenda are labor agreements with the Police Officers and noted these are also organizations within their employ that continue to provide service to the community and people of New Jersey. Ms. Mack thanked all of them.

Ms. Mack mentioned the Advisory Committee doesn't normally meet in November but are looking forward to meeting in December at their joint meeting. However, she thought there was so much activity within the organization that they chose to come in November. Ms. Mack thanked President & CEO Corbett for attending their meeting because she knows he was busy doing innovation work around the state. They were very pleased he could join them and noted President & CEO Corbett discussed the activities of the Board, the new classes for bus drivers and rail operators, and how the American Dream went off without a hitch.

Ms. Mack said she was so pleased with this meeting because the organization is interactive. She said about three months ago she was at a Board meeting and there was a great cry for more innovation on sustainability and where they are going in the future. Although they talk about a lot of issues when they come to Board meetings, the fact of the matter is when someone brings a topic up there is a press conference on the need for NJ TRANSIT to react to the sustainability issues. Their committee this month had a very in-depth meeting with Steve Janks, Manager of Energy and Sustainability. What came out of this meeting was discussion on the NJ TRANSITGRID project, electric buses and the solar program, but mostly the impact NJ TRANSIT is having on the reduction of greenhouse gases. Ms. Mack said they don't do a good enough job of highlighting what is going on within the organization.

Ms. Mack said they also had an update on the dual locomotives program which their Vice Chair requested. They discussed the seven additional diesel locomotives that will be coming on line late December 2020 and early 2021. This is very important to them although they don't know how these vehicles will be assigned, and there is a great need for more capital equipment throughout the system.

Ms. Mack said they met for the first time with Chief Customer Experience Officer & Customer Advocate Stewart Mader and talked about what his role is. Their committee was pleased to know that within the Strategic Plan activities and within the Board, NJ TRANSIT is calling attention to this issue and having an employee from the organization act as a liaison with the customers to enhance customer service and the customer experience. They appreciate the controversy over the title of this position, but she can see and respect when someone is going out interacting with the customers in the field and coming back and tweaking and highlighting activities that can enhance the system.

The Enterprise Asset Management Program will allow NJ TRANSIT to focus on the development and implementation of consistent programmatic business processes and enhanced prioritization of both operating and capital funding to support more efficient and effective investment in the most critical asset needs. As cited in the North Highland Company’s assessment of NJ TRANSIT, approval of this contract will allow for a qualified vendor to serve as an Enterprise Asset Management Office to support NJ TRANSIT in refining policy and concepts of operations, perform gap analyses, and design roadmaps so that each operating mode can implement their own Enterprise Asset Management processes consistently across NJ TRANSIT.

TO: BOARD OF DIRECTORS
FROM: KEVIN S. CORBETT
DATE: NOVEMBER 13, 2019
SUBJECT: PRESIDENT & CEO'S REPORT – NOVEMBER 2019

I'm pleased to share more encouraging news about our services. On the rail side, train cancellations are down 35 percent in the first ten months of this year compared to last year. Cancellations this October are down 41 percent from October 2018, and on-time performance increased nearly three percentage points in October 2019 – to more than 91 percent – when compared to October 2018.

On the bus side of our operation, we've graduated more than 600 new bus operators since January 2018, which has helped us reduce the average number of missed trips per day from about 40 to less than 10 on many days – out of more than 10,000 total bus trips provided each day. Also, from April 2019 to September 2019, these new hires have allowed us to add 80 new bus trips to the weekday schedule, 86 new bus trips to the Saturday schedule, and 166 new bus trips to the Sunday schedule. Fewer delays and more service mean less crowding and a vastly better experience for our bus customers.

We also remain committed to leveraging technology to improve the customer experience. To that end, we've launched a completely redesigned and upgraded version of our mobile app. The updated app – released last month for Apple and coming later this month for Android – has all the features our customers have come to rely on, with a cleaner, simpler, more modern interface and design. Nearly 80,000 customers have installed the update. After more than 1,500 reviews, the app's rating is holding steady at an impressive 4.5 out of 5 stars, with a tremendous amount of positive feedback for the latest update.

We continue to advance previously-stalled capital projects. On October 30th, Governor Murphy announced an MOU between NJ TRANSIT and the Middlesex County Improvement Authority to build a new train station in North Brunswick, along the Northeast Corridor. The MCIA will serve as the project manager for the station's design and construction. Projects like this are critically important for our system and our region. Unlike national commuter rail trends, NJ TRANSIT is seeing an increase in rail ridership of about three percent year-over-year, and this station will be on the Northeast Corridor line – our busiest in the system.

We're also looking at innovative ways to engage external partners in the public and private sectors to partner on new projects. On November 7th, NJ TRANSIT hosted an Industry Day for our new Innovation Challenge. Through this Challenge, NJ TRANSIT is exploring the possibility of a public-private partnership to significantly increase capacity between Secaucus, MetLife Stadium, and American Dream. We hosted breakout sessions and networking opportunities, where industry leaders from more than 50 private-sector firms and academic institutions engaged with senior NJ TRANSIT staff and representatives from other major organizations. In the coming weeks, we'll release a Request for Expression of Interest to receive and evaluate proposals from the best and the brightest in the industry.

On the subject of American Dream, I'm pleased to report that transit to and from the complex went off without a hitch for the limited opening on October 25th, and has been running smoothly ever since. As new amenities open in the coming months, we'll closely monitor service to ensure it remains commensurate with demand.

Of course, NJ TRANSIT remains focused on the safety and security of our system for our customers, employees, and the communities we serve. On November 2nd, the New Jersey Transit Police Department joined local, county, state, and federal partners to conduct an emergency response drill at our Glen Rock Main Line train station. Attorney General Gurbir Grewal was on hand to observe this large-scale drill, which was about four hours long and included more than 150 volunteers.

Finally, in honor of Veterans Day, I'd like to express my deepest respect and admiration for NJ TRANSIT's veterans, and all the brave men and women who serve or have served in the U.S. armed forces. As we reflect on the service of these American heroes, let's also reconfirm our commitment to do everything we can – in words and in deeds – to recognize the contributions and the sacrifices of America's veterans.

Dear Mr. Phillips:

At the request of the PBA, I agree to a trial program to allow PBA members to be compensated for overtime in the following manner. PBA members will be allowed to split their overtime hours earned between comp time and cash for each hour at their discretion (i.e. if you earned 6 hours in overtime, this can be split into 4 hours comp and 2 hours cash).

The trial period would run from Saturday, January 30, 2016 and end on Friday, July 29, 2016. Either party could terminate this agreement with 30 days' notice. RE: Compensatory Time/Training Schedule Agreement

Dear Mr. Phillips,

At the request of the PBA I have consented to change Article XLVII, Optional Compensatory Time Bank, as follows:

Article XLVII

In lieu of receiving cash payments for overtime as required by the Fair Labor Standards Act, an Officer may elect to receive compensatory time. Such compensatory time will be paid at the rate of time and one half (1 ½) for each hour worked in excess of forty (40) hours in any work week.

NJ TRANSIT shall allow Officers use of their compensatory time within a reasonable period after a written request is submitted based on service requirements. Compensatory time may only be taken on forty eight (48) hours' notice to the Chief of Police or his/her designee, so as to prevent undue disruption of NJ TRANSIT's operation. Utilization of Compensatory Time earned shall be within the discretion of the employee subject only to prior departmental approval based on service requirements.

When an Officer accumulates more than ten (10) hours compensatory time, he/she may request compensatory time off in ten (10) hours increments. The maximum amount of compensatory time that an Officer may accumulate in his/her bank is sixty (60) hours. Upon termination of employment, all banked compensatory time shall be paid by NJ TRANSIT at the straight time hourly rate of pay in effect at that time for the Officer, within thirty (30) days of termination unless otherwise mutually agreed upon by NJ TRANSIT and the Officer.

In an effort to curb attendance issues, NJT agrees to modify the current comp time usage to as follows. If sick time is not reduced by September 1, 2016, NJT will have the right to reopen this contract for the purposes of negotiating a different section for the use of comp time. An officer may also request the use of compensatory time off in one (1) hour blocks in conjunction with the beginning or end of the officer's tour. Compensatory time cannot be utilized in the middle of an officers tour or to enable an officer to work overtime or an Extra Duty Job that they would normally not be eligible for due to their regular work hours.

In exchange for the above changes to Article XLVII, Optional Compensatory Time Bank, the PBA agrees to the following change to Article XXX, Training Programs, Schools, Seminars:

Article XXX

Section 1

Police officers attending training programs, schools, or seminars approved in advance by NJ TRANSIT will be compensated as provided in this Agreement, except that police officers relieved from their regular assignments to attend such training will be allowed their regular ten (10) hours pay at the straight-time rate with appropriate adjustments of their relief days made necessary by attendance at such training programs. With respect to any five-day training programs, police officers will work a schedule of five eight hour days with two relief days.

Section 2

Police officers, as a condition of employment, shall be required to qualify semi-annually with the use of a service weapon.

ARTICLE 3

UNION SECURITY/DUES DEDUCTIONS

Section 1. NJ Transit agrees to deduct from the regular paycheck of an employee dues of the Union, which include regular membership dues, initiation fees and assessments, provided the employee submits an authorization for dues deductions in writing and in proper form and acceptable to NJ Transit to the designated payroll and benefits coordinator of NJ Transit. Dues deduction will be reflected in the paycheck for the current pay period, provided the form is received at least fourteen (14) calendar days prior to the end of the pay period, otherwise to be reflected in the next pay period. The Union agrees to indemnify and hold harmless NJ Transit from any causes of action, claims, loss or damages incurred as a result of Article 3.

Section 2. Union dues deductions for any employee in this negotiating unit shall be limited to members of the Union. Employees shall be eligible to withdraw such authorization at any time, to be effective as of January 1 of each year provided that notice of withdrawal is filed prior to January 1, but no earlier than October 15 of the prior year, with the responsible payroll clerk as otherwise provided by law. Unless an employee withdraws authorization for the deduction of union dues, NJ Transit will continue to deduct dues.

~~Section 3. Representation Fee: After 30 days from the beginning date of employment in a position in this unit, all eligible non-member employees in this unit will be required to pay the Union a representative fee in lieu of dues for services rendered by the majority representative. The representation fee in lieu of dues shall be in an amount equivalent to Union dues charged by the majority representative to its own members less the cost of benefits provided only to its members, or the cost of activities or causes of a partisan political or ideological nature only incidentally related to the terms and conditions of employment. In no event shall~~

Tentative Agreement

~~representation fees exceed 85% of the regular membership dues, fees and assessments. The mechanics of the deduction of representation fees and the transmission of such fees to the Union will, as nearly as possible, be the same as those used for the deduction and transmission of Union dues.~~

Section 3. NJ TRANSIT will provide the following information when dues are transmitted to the Union: (1) employee name; (2) address; (3) dues amount; (5) anniversary date; (6) salary; and (7) pay period. Employee paychecks will identify union dues.

Section 4. The Union shall certify to NJ Transit in writing the amount of Union dues and ~~representation fees to be deducted.~~ NJ Transit shall have no obligation to deduct dues or ~~representation fees until 14 days after the Union so certifies.~~ The Union shall notify NJ Transit of any changes in such deductions thirty (30) days in advance of the requested date of such change. The change shall be reflected in payroll deduction at the earliest time practicable after receipt of the request.

Section 5. ~~Union dues and representation fees so deducted by NJ Transit shall be transmitted to the Secretary/Treasurer of the Union together with a listing of employees. If errors occur regarding Union dues or representation fee deductions by NJ Transit, and they are brought to the attention of NJ Transit, NJ Transit shall review the matter and solve the problem on a prospective basis.~~

Section 6. It is specifically agreed that NJ Transit assumes no obligation, financial or otherwise, arising out of the provisions of this Article, and the Union hereby agrees that it will indemnify and hold NJ Transit harmless from any claims, actions, or proceedings by an employee arising from deductions made by NJ Transit hereunder. GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

Section 1. Definition: The term grievance as used herein shall mean a claimed breach, misinterpretation, or improper application of the terms of this Agreement. A grievance may be filed by either party to this Agreement. A grievance shall be resolved solely and exclusively through this grievance procedure; however, only grievances pertaining to the application or interpretation or claimed violation of the express terms of this Agreement as they directly and materially affect terms and conditions of employment shall be arbitrable under Step Four of this Article.

A grievance may be initiated at or moved to any step of the procedure without hearing at a lower step by mutual agreement of the parties, which must be in writing. The Union may initiate a grievance on behalf of a non-probationary unit member challenging a discharge, demotion or suspension of five (5) days or longer at Step Two of the following procedure, provided that the grievance is filed with the Chief of Police within fifteen (15) working days of the notice of discipline.

If NJ Transit is the filing party, NJ Transit may proceed directly to PERC as set forth in Step Four of the following procedure on notice to the Union, with or without the consent of the Union.

The purpose of this grievance procedure is to secure an equitable solution to grievances as herein defined. The parties agree that grievances should be resolved at the lowest possible administrative level. In the event a grievance is not timely moved to the next step of this grievance procedure, the disposition at the prior step shall be final and binding on all parties and any employee(s) involved.

NJ Transit Police Department
March 14, 2019 Proposal

A. Step One — Manager or Commanding Officer

1. A grievant must file his/her grievance in writing with his/her Manager or Commanding Officer within fifteen (15) working days of the occurrence of the matter complained of. The grievance must be in writing on the grievance form agreed to by the parties: must be signed by the employee, steward or the Union grievant and, if filed by the Union, by both the grievant and the Union's representative; must set forth a clear and concise statement of facts constituting the grievance, the specific contract provision(s) forming the basis of the grievance, and must set forth with particularity the remedy sought. If a grievance is signed only by the employee, it shall not be processed until the Union affirms in writing its support of the grievance. If a grievance is not timely filed, the actions complained of shall be considered final and binding on both parties and the employee(s) involved.

2. The Manager or Commanding Officer's response shall be served within fifteen (15) working days after receipt of the grievance, or if a meeting has been held, within fifteen (15) working days after the date of such meeting.

3. Upon written request by the Union, NJ Transit will provide to the Union prior to Step 2 all information then available to NJ Transit to which the Union would be entitled pursuant to applicable law.

B. Step Two – Chief of Police

In the event the grievance is not resolved at Step One, or in the event the Manager or Commanding Officer has not served a timely written response at Step One, then within fifteen (15) working days of the decision at Step One, or the date such decision was due to be served, the Union may present the written grievance and any written decision(s) received at Step One to the Chief of Police. Upon receipt of the grievance by the Chief of Police, the Chief of Police shall have fifteen (15) working days to respond.

NJ Transit Police Department
March 14, 2019 Proposal

C. Step Three – Director of Labor Relations

In the event the grievance is not resolved at Step Two, or in the event the Chief of Police has not served a timely written decision at Step Two, then within fifteen (15) working days of the decision at Step Two, or the date such decision was due to be served, the Union may appeal in writing the decision at Step Two to the Director of Labor Relations or his/her designated representative. The Director of Labor Relations or his/her designated representative will serve a response within fifteen (15) working days following the receipt of such appeal.

D. Step Four – Arbitration

In the event the grievance is not resolved at Step Three, or in the event the Director of Labor Relations or his/her designated representative has not served a timely written decision at Step Three, then within five (5) working days after the decision at Step Three was served, or was due to be served, the Union may notify the Chief of Police in writing of the Union's intention to submit the grievance to binding arbitration. If the Union fails to submit such notice to the Chief of Police within that timeframe, the Step Three decision will become final.

Provided the Union submits the requisite notice identified above within five (5) days to the Chief of Police, either party may refer the matter to the Public Employment Relations Commission ("PERC") within fourteen (14) working days after the decision by the Director of Labor Relations or his/her designated representative, or the day such decision was due. An arbitrator shall be selected pursuant to the rules of PERC. If the Union fails to refer the matter to PERC within said fourteen (14) working day period, the Union will have been deemed to have withdrawn its request for arbitration and the decision at Step Three will become final.

NJ Transit Police Department
March 14, 2019 Proposal

Thereafter binding arbitration proceedings shall be conducted pursuant to PERC rules governing same, except as they may be expressly altered or modified herein. The arbitrator shall have no authority to modify, add to, subtract from, or in any way whatsoever alter the provisions of this Agreement.

Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as a waiver of any managerial prerogative afforded NJ Transit or an agreement by NJ Transit to process or arbitrate a grievance that concerns a subject falling outside the scope of collective negotiations.

E. Information

Either party may request from the other party information relative to a grievance. Upon receipt of a written information request, the receiving party shall make available to the requesting party information in its possession to which the receiving party is entitled pursuant to applicable law. The receiving party shall provide such information not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the arbitration hearing.

The parties shall make a good faith effort to informally resolve disputes which arise as to information requests. If the parties are unable to resolve an information request dispute, either party may seek resolution of the dispute through arbitration.

Employees may also use up to 40 hours of sick leave each year for the attendance by the employee upon the employee's spouse, child, or parent, requiring the care or attendance of such employee.

Section 1. Existing or anticipated job vacancies will be posted on bulletin boards at all sign-in locations. Posting will be for a period of ten (10) working days. If a job vacancy in the negotiations unit occurs, and NJT determines to fill such vacancy, negotiations unit members shall be advised of the opening.

Section 2. Employees can request the open position in writing. Only qualified candidates will be considered.

Section 3. If more than one employee requests the position, and where the qualifications of the requesting employees are determined to be essentially equal by NJ Transit, it shall be filled on the basis of seniority.

Section 4. If posted vacancies are filled from the negotiations unit, they will be filled within fifteen (15) working days of the posting unless NJ Transit determines that filling such vacancy will result in a staffing problem. In such cases, the vacancy will be filled as soon as the staffing problem is resolved to the satisfaction of NJ Transit, when the position is filled from the bargaining unit.

Section 5. During the first week of November the employer will post all shift assignments for fare enforcement officers which include work location. Employees shall be given their choice of shift based on seniority alone. Shifts may be changed due to operational considerations, but no shift shall be changed arbitrarily.
